

What is the Central Ohio Pathways HUB?

Managed by Health Impact Ohio since 2019, the Central Ohio Pathways HUB (the HUB) is a care coordination program that provides connections to care and services for Central Ohio's most marginalized at-risk populations. The HUB has a service area of Franklin, Delaware, Union, Madison, Pickaway, Licking, Fairfield, Ross and Marion counties. There are currently twelve care coordination agencies (CCAs) that employ 45 community health workers (CHWs) participating in the HUB.

How does it work?

Find Engage Assess Risks

Community Health Workers (CHW) engage at-risk individuals in the community who they meet through canvassing, referrals from MCOs and community partners. The CHWs then complete a comprehensive needs and risk assessment.

Plan
Track
Connect

CHWs enroll clients in the HUB based on assessment, opening standardized Pathways, or connections to care and services. CHWs check in with clients on a regular basis - providing continued support, connection to care and resources, and educating the client to the goal of self-sufficiency.

Monitor Progress
Complete Pathways
Submit for Reimbursement

CHWs work with clients to complete Pathways by helping to work toward goals and maintain successful care and service connections. As Pathways are completed, local HUB staff audit and invoice completed Pathways, sending them to Medicaid Managed Care for reimbursement that is then sent back to CCAs that employ the CHWs.

Care Coordination Agencies (CCAs) in the community employ the CHWs that provide care coordination for HUB clients
